4th January 2021

Good evening

In light of Boris Johnson's announcement tonight I will be closing school for one day tomorrow (Tuesday 5th January) to allow time to prepare for Home learning and to communicate with Key worker families.

If I have contacted you personally today and you need your place from tomorrow please let me know and I will share details about bringing your children into school. I will be in contact with all of the parents who have requested a place over the day.

Home Learning will commence as from 9.00am Wednesday morning and you will receive more information tomorrow.

Please know that this was not the decision we were expecting, and we were fully prepared for welcoming the children back tomorrow. I know that you will continue to be supportive and am grateful for your understanding
